

Media Coverage – ICLAP 2016

17 October, 2016

<http://pakobserver.net/pu-to-host-2nd-intl-conference-on-linguistic-studies/>
<http://tribune.com.pk/story/1200290/second-conference-pu-host-linguistic-studies-seminar/>
<http://dailytimes.com.pk/punjab/17-Oct-16/pu-to-host-intl-conference-on-linguistics-tomorrow>
<http://www.brecorder.com/general-news/172/93933/>

18 October, 2016

<http://pu.edu.pk/home/section/allpress/6340>
<http://pu.edu.pk/home/section/press/6340>
<http://pu.edu.pk/home/section/conferences/6340>
<http://pu.edu.pk/home/section/exam/6340>
<https://www.thenews.com.pk/print/158067-JI-leader-rues-hero-worship-in-politics>

19 October, 2016

<http://pakobserver.net/moot-on-linguistics-starts-at-pu/>
<http://dailytimes.com.pk/punjab/19-Oct-16/intl-conference-on-linguistics-commences-at-pu>
<http://www.brecorder.com/general-news/172/94438/>
<https://www.thenews.com.pk/print/158229-Call-for-unity-to-thwart-enemy-designs>
<http://www.dawn.com/news/1290838>
http://epaper.dawn.com/DetailImage.php?StoryImage=19_10_2016_177_005

25 October, 2016

<http://nation.com.pk/laahore/25-Oct-2016/pu-holds-int-l-linguistics-moot>

17 October, 2016

<http://pakobserver.net/pu-to-host-2nd-intl-conference-on-linguistic-studies/>

PU to host 2nd Int'l conference on linguistic studies

Salim Ahmed

Lahore—Punjab University Institute of Languages in collaboration with Higher Education Commission Pakistan will organize three-day 2nd international conference of the Linguistic Association of Pakistan (ICLAP) on Tuesday (October 18) at Al Raazi Hall. The central theme of the conference is “Aspects and Approaches in Contemporary Linguistic Studies”. A large number of delegates from Islamabad, Karachi, Multan, Quetta, Peshawar, Faisalabad, Rawalpindi and other cities of the country will participate in the conference and will present their research work on language and linguistics before the interested participants. Students and young scholars of social sciences and humanities in general and of language and linguistics in special would benefit from the presence of renowned linguists and established scholars of the field at one place in the country. The opening ceremony of the conference has been framed at 9 a.m. on 18th October at the Al-Razi Hall of the university in the new campus. The Punjab Minister of Higher Education Zakia Shah Nawaz Khan and the Minister of Education Rana Mashhood would also grace the occasion. The international panel of plenary speakers includes Prof. Dr. Francisco Marcos-Marin from Department of Modern Languages and Literatures, The University of Texas at San Antonio, USA, Prof. Dr. Maria Lourdes Garcia-Macho from National University of Distance Education, Spain, Dr. Elena Bashir from The Department of South Asian Languages and Civilizations, The University of Chicago, Chicago, USA, Dr. Tikaram Poudel from Kathmandu University, Hattiban, Lalitpur, Nepal and Kumon Kimiaki Tokumaru from Japan. In addition to the academic sessions on different topics of languages and linguistics, two applied workshops have also been framed within the conference by the Pakistan Association for Lexicology and Lexicography.

<http://tribune.com.pk/story/1200290/second-conference-pu-host-linguistic-studies-seminar/>

Second conference: PU to host linguistic studies seminar

LAHORE: Punjab University Institute of Languages in collaboration with Pakistan Higher Education Commission will organise a three-day 2nd international conference of the Linguistic Association of Pakistan (ICLAP) on Tuesday.

The central theme of the conference is “Aspects and Approaches in Contemporary Linguistic Studies”. A large number of delegates from Islamabad, Karachi, Multan, Quetta, Peshawar, Faisalabad, Rawalpindi and other cities of the country will participate in the conference.

They will present their research work on language and linguistics before the interested participants. Students and young scholars of social sciences and humanities in general and of language and linguistics would benefit from the presence of renowned linguists and established scholars of the field at one place in the country. The opening ceremony of the conference will be held at on October 18 at the new campus of the university.

Published in The Express Tribune, October 17th, 2016.

<http://dailytimes.com.pk/punjab/17-Oct-16/pu-to-hold-intl-conference-on-linguistics-tomorrow>

PU to hold int'l conference on linguistics tomorrow

LAHORE: Punjab University's Institute of Languages, in collaboration with Higher Education Commission (HEC), would organise the second international conference of the Linguistic Association of Pakistan (ICLAP) tomorrow at Al Raazi Hall.

The central theme of the conference is "Aspects and Approaches in Contemporary Linguistic Studies". A large number of delegates from Islamabad, Karachi, Multan, Quetta, Peshawar, Faisalabad, Rawalpindi and other cities of the country would participate in the conference and present their research work on language and linguistics before the interested participants. Students and young scholars of social sciences and humanities in general and of language and linguistics in particular would benefit from the presence of renowned linguists and established scholars of the field at one place. The opening ceremony of the conference has been framed at 9am tomorrow at the Al-Razi Hall of the university in the new campus.

Punjab Higher Education Minister Zakia Shahnawaz Khan and Education Minister Rana Mashhood would also grace the occasion. The international panel of plenary speakers would include Prof Dr Francisco Marcos-Marin from Department of Modern Languages and Literatures, University of Texas, USA, Prof Dr Maria Lourdes Garcia-Macho from National University of Distance Education, Spain, Dr Elena Bashir from The Department of South Asian Languages and Civilizations, University of Chicago, Dr Tikaram Poudel from Kathmandu University, Hattiban, Nepal, and Kumon Kimiaki Tokumaru from Japan. In addition to the academic sessions on different topics of languages and linguistics, two applied workshops would be framed within the conference by the Pakistan Association for Lexicology and Lexicography and the Pakistan Association for Interpreting and Translation Studies.

<http://www.brecorder.com/general-news/172/93933/>

PU to host global conference

Punjab University Institute of Languages in collaboration with Higher Education Commission Pakistan will organise three-day 2nd international conference of the Linguistic Association of Pakistan (ICLAP) on Tuesday October 18, 2016 at Al Raazi Hall.

The central theme of the conference is "Aspects and Approaches in Contemporary Linguistic Studies". A large number of delegates from Islamabad, Karachi, Multan, Quetta, Peshawar, Faisalabad, Rawalpindi and other cities of the country will participate in the conference and will present their research work on language and linguistics before the interested participants. Students and young scholars of social sciences and humanities in general and of language and linguistics in special would benefit from the presence of renowned linguists and established scholars of the field at one place in the country.

18 October, 2016

<http://pu.edu.pk/home/section/allpress/6340>
<http://pu.edu.pk/home/section/press/6340>
<http://pu.edu.pk/home/section/conferences/6340>
<http://pu.edu.pk/home/section/exam/6340>

Linguistics conference begins at PU

LAHORE: (Tuesday, October 18, 2016): The second international Conference of the Linguistic Association of Pakistan (ICLAP) being organized by Punjab University Institute of Languages in collaboration with Higher Education Commission of Pakistan has began here at Al Raazi Hall on Tuesday. Dean Faculty of Oriental Learning Prof Dr Fakhru Haq Noori, Incharge Institute of Languages Dr Maria Maldonado, Prof. Dr. Francisco Marcos-Marin from Department of Modern Languages and Literatures, the University of Texas at San Antonio, USA, Prof. Dr. Maria Lourdes Garcia-Macho from National University of Distance Education, Spain, Dr. Elena Bashir from The Department of South Asian Languages and Civilizations, The University of Chicago, Chicago, USA, Dr. Tikaram Poudel from Kathmandu University, Hattiban, Lalitpur, President Linguistic Association of Pakistan Dr Ghulam Raza, other speakers from abroad and various parts of country and a large number of students were present on the occasion.

Addressing the ceremony, Dr Fakhru Haq Noori said that the central theme of the conference “Aspects and Approaches in Contemporary Linguistic Studies” had much importance in present global scenario. Dr Maria Maldonado said that the conference aimed at bringing a vast array of topics related to the theme and taking stock of scholarly work in linguistics in order to identify current research interests and point out possible future directions of the field in Pakistan. She said that during the conference, we will present Lahore Linguistics Declaration 2016. She said that research in the field of linguistics in PU had been happening since 2010 and Oriental College was making efforts to rename the Institute of Languages as Institute of Languages and Linguistics. President Linguistics Association of Pakistan Dr Ghulam Raza said that the core objectives of the association are to promote scientific study of languages in country, collaborate with academic institutions and other language-related organizations to making useful linguistic studies, develop linguistic resources and organize linguistic events in the country. He said the participants could obtain the guiding comments of their peers and experts regarding their own ongoing research projects and share their mature opinion to other linguists working in the common areas of specializations. He said that to boost strong research culture in the field of linguistics, we intend to start publishing the Journal of the Linguistic Association of Pakistan this year. The conference will continue till Thursday.

<https://www.thenews.com.pk/print/158067-JI-leader-rues-hero-worship-in-politics>

conference: Punjab University Institute of Languages, in collaboration with Higher Education Commission Pakistan, is organising a three-day (2nd) international conference of the Linguistic Association of Pakistan (ICLAP) with the theme of “Aspects and Approaches in Contemporary Linguistic Studies”.

The conference will be inaugurated on Tuesday (today) at Al-Raazi Hall in which PU Vice Chancellor Prof Dr Mujahid Kamran and linguists from abroad and various parts of the country will participate.

19 October, 2016

<http://pakobserver.net/moot-on-linguistics-starts-at-pu/>

Moot on Linguistics starts at PU

Salim Ahmed

Lahore—The second international Conference of the Linguistic Association of Pakistan (ICLAP) being organized by Punjab University Institute of Languages in collaboration with Higher Education Commission of Pakistan has began here at Al Raazi Hall on Tuesday. Dean Faculty of Oriental Learning Prof Dr Fakhru Haq Noori, Incharge Institute of Languages Dr Maria Maldonado, Prof. Dr. Francisco Marcos-Marin from Department of Modern Languages and Literatures, the University of Texas at San Antonio, USA, Prof. Dr. Maria Lourdes Garcia-Macho from National University of Distance Education, Spain, Dr. Elena Bashir from The Department of South Asian Languages and Civilizations, The University of Chicago, Chicago, USA, Dr. Tikaram Poudel from Kathmandu University, Hattiban, Lalitpur, President Linguistic Association of Pakistan Dr Ghulam Raza, other speakers from abroad and various parts of country and a large number of students were present on the occasion. Addressing the ceremony, Dr Fakhru Haq Noori said that the central theme of the conference “Aspects and Approaches in Contemporary Linguistic Studies” had much importance in present global scenario.

Dr Maria Maldonado said that the conference aimed at bringing a vast array of topics related to the theme and taking stock of scholarly work in linguistics in order to identify current research interests and point out possible future directions of the field in Pakistan. She said that during the conference, we will present Lahore Linguistics Declaration 2016. She said that research in the field of linguistics in PU had been happening since 2010 and Oriental College was making efforts to rename the Institute of Languages as Institute of Languages and Linguistics. President Linguistic Association of Pakistan Dr Ghulam Raza said that the core objectives of the association are to promote scientific study of languages in country, collaborate with academic institutions and other language-related organizations to making useful linguistic studies, develop linguistic resources and organize linguistic events in the country.

<http://dailytimes.com.pk/punjab/19-Oct-16/intl-conference-on-linguistics-commences-at-pu>

Int'l conference on linguistics commences at PU

LAHORE: The second International Conference of the Linguistic Association of Pakistan (ICLAP) begun at Punjab University's Al-Raazi Hall on Tuesday.

The event is being organised by the Punjab University's Institute of Languages in collaboration with the Higher Education Commission of Pakistan. Oriental Learning Faculty Dean Prof Dr Fakhru Haq Noori, Institute of Languages incharge Dr Maria Maldonado, Prof Dr Francisco Marcos-Marin from Department of Modern Languages and Literature, University of Texas, Prof Dr Maria Lourdes Garcia-Macho from National University of Distance Education, Spain, Dr Elena Bashir from the Department of South Asian Languages and Civilisations, University of Chicago, Dr Tikaram Poudel from Kathmandu University, Nepal, Linguistic Association of Pakistan President Dr Ghulam Raza and other speakers from abroad as well as various parts of country were present on the occasion. Addressing the ceremony, Dr Noori said that the central theme of the conference 'Aspects and Approaches in Contemporary Linguistic Studies' had much importance in present global scenario. Dr Maria Maldonado said that the conference aimed at bringing a vast array of topics related to the theme and taking stock of scholarly work in linguistics in order to identify current research interests and point out possible future directions of the field in Pakistan.

<http://www.brecorder.com/general-news/172/94438/>

Linguistics conference begins at PU

The second international Conference of the Linguistic Association of Pakistan (ICLAP) being organized by Punjab University Institute of Languages in collaboration with Higher Education Commission of Pakistan (HEC) kicked off here on Tuesday. Dean Faculty of Oriental Learning Dr Fakhru Haq Noori said that the central theme of the conference "Aspects and Approaches in Contemporary Linguistic Studies" had much importance in present global scenario.

In charge Institute of Languages Dr Maria Maldonado, said that the conference aimed at bringing a vast range of topics related to the theme. In the conference researchers will discuss current trends in linguistics and point out possible future directions of the field in Pakistan. She said that during the conference, Lahore Linguistics Declaration 2016 will also be passed.

President Linguistics Association of Pakistan Dr Ghulam Raza said that the core objectives of the association are to promote scientific study of languages in country, collaborate with academic institutions and other language-related organisations for making useful linguistic studies, develop linguistic resources and organise linguistic events in the country.

<https://www.thenews.com.pk/print/158229-Call-for-unity-to-thwart-enemy-designs>

Linguistic: The second International Conference of the Linguistic Association of Pakistan (ICLAP) "Aspects and Approaches in Contemporary Linguistic Studies" began at Punjab University (PU) on Tuesday. The three-day conference is organised by PU's Institute of Languages in collaboration with Higher Education Commission of Pakistan. PU Faculty of Oriental Learning Dean Prof Dr Fakhru Haq Noori, Institute of Languages in charge Dr Maria Maldonado, Prof Dr Francisco Marcos-Marin from Department of Modern Languages and Literatures, the University of Texas at San Antonio, the US, Prof Dr Maria Lourdes Garcia-Macho from National University of Distance Education, Spain, Dr Elena Bashir from the Department of South Asian Languages and Civilizations, The University of Chicago, Chicago, the US, Dr Tikaram Poudel from Kathmandu University, Hattiban, Lalitpur, Linguistic Association of Pakistan President Dr Ghulam Raza, other speakers from abroad and the country and a large number of students were present at the inaugural ceremony of the conference.

<http://www.dawn.com/news/1290838>
http://epaper.dawn.com/DetaillImage.php?StoryImage=19_10_2016_177_005

Linguistics conference kicks off at PU

LAHORE: The second International Conference of the Linguistic Association of Pakistan (ICLAP) began here at the Punjab University's Al Raazi Hall on Tuesday.

The three-day event is being organised by the PU's Institute of Languages in collaboration with the Higher Education Commission.

Dean Faculty of Oriental Learning Prof Dr Fakhru Haq Noori, In-charge Institute of Languages Dr Maria Maldonado, Prof Dr Francisco Marcos-Marin from Department of Modern Languages and Literature, the University of Texas at San Antonio, USA, Prof Dr Maria Lourdes Garcia-Macho from National University of Distance Education, Spain, Dr. Elena Bashir from the Department of South Asian Languages and Civilisations, University of Chicago, USA, Dr Tikaram Poudel from Kathmandu University, Hattiban, Lalitpur, President Linguistic Association of Pakistan Dr Ghulam Raza and others attended the inaugural session.

Addressing the ceremony, Dr Fakhru Haq Noori said the central theme of the conference "Aspects and approaches in contemporary linguistic studies" carried too much importance in the present global scenario.

Dr Maria Maldonado said the conference aimed at bringing a vast array of topics related to the theme and taking stock of scholarly work in linguistics in order to identify current research interests and point out possible future directions of the field in Pakistan. "During the conference, we will present Lahore Linguistics Declaration 2016."

She said research in the field of linguistics in PU had been going on since 2010 and the oriental college was making efforts to rename the languages institute as institute of languages and linguistics.

Linguistics Association of Pakistan President Dr Ghulam Raza said the core objectives of the association were to promote scientific study of languages in the country, collaborate with academic institutions and other language-related organisations to making useful linguistic studies, develop linguistic resources and organise linguistic events in the country.

He said the participants could obtain the guiding comments of their peers and experts regarding their own ongoing research projects and share their opinion with other linguists working in the common areas of specialisation.

"To boost strong research culture in the field of linguistics, we intend to start publishing the journal of the linguistic association of Pakistan this year," he added.

25 October, 2016

<http://nation.com.pk/lahore/25-Oct-2016/pu-holds-int-l-linguistics-moot>

PU holds int'l linguistics moot

LAHORE - The Institute of Languages (IoL) of the University of the Punjab has organised the 2nd International Conference of the Linguistic Association of Pakistan (ICLAP 2016) in collaboration with Higher Education Commission (HEC) of Pakistan here at the Al Raazi Hall.

Ambassador of Spain to Pakistan Carlos Morales graced the occasion as chief guest while PU Vice Chancellor Dr Mujahid Kamran was guest of honour.

Dean Faculty of Oriental Learning Prof Dr Fakhru Haq Noori, In-charge IoL Dr Maria Maldonado, Prof Dr Francisco Marcos-Marin from Department of Modern Languages and Literatures, the University of Texas at San Antonio, USA, Prof Dr Maria Lourdes Garcia-Macho from National University of Distance Education, Spain, Dr Elena Bashir from The Department of South Asian Languages and Civilizations, The University of Chicago, Chicago, USA, Dr Tikaram Poudel from Kathmandu University, Hattiban, Lalitpur, Linguistic Association of Pakistan (LAP) president Dr Ghulam Raza and other keynote speakers from abroad and various parts of country and a large number of participants were also present on the occasion.

The programme of the conference consisted of invited talks, workshop/tutorials, paper presentations and panel discussions.

The organisers usually prepare the certificates of the presenters and participants in advance and award them either after completing their session or at the concluding ceremony but interestingly, the organisers of ICLAP 2016 have asked the participants, who came from abroad and various parts of the country, to wait for maximum one-month to get the certificates.

Addressing the concluding ceremony, Dr Fakhru Haq Noori said that the central theme of the conference 'Aspects and Approaches in Contemporary Linguistic Studies' had much importance in present global scenario.

Dr Maria said that the conference aimed at bringing a vast array of topics related to the theme and taking stock of scholarly work in linguistics in order to identify current research interests and point out possible future directions of the field in Pakistan.

"Research in the field of linguistics in PU has been happening since 2010 and Oriental College was making efforts to rename the Institute of Languages as Institute of Languages and Linguistics," she added.